

Environmental Law Center

a champion for strong environmental laws and rights so all Albertans can enjoy clean air, clean water and a healthy environment
<http://elc.ab.ca>

University law students: Looking for a summer job?

Author : Kara Tersen

For Immediate Posting

Notice – Summer Law Student Position

Accepting Applications for May – August 2018 Placement

Rate: $20.00/hour APPLICATION DEADLINE: April 13th 2018

The Environmental Law Centre invites applications from law students attending a Canadian university for a student research assistant position for May-August, 2018. Applicants must have strong research and writing skills. The research assistant will work with Centre lawyers and gain exposure to the range of Centre program activities, including law reform, education and monitoring, community outreach, information requests, and research.

Preference will be given to students completing the second year of law school.

Strategic objectives that the Centre is pursuing in 2018 relate to: public information and education; environmental rights; climate change law and policy, and other environmental and natural resource topics.

Interested students should submit a covering letter and resume in either hard copy or electronic format (Word only), no later than April 13th, 2017 to:

Environmental Law Centre

10115, 100A St, #410
Edmonton, Alberta T5J 2W2

E-mail: elc@elc.ab.ca

Attention: Jason Unger, Executive Director

Share this: